

Do you know where you're going to?

Do you like the things that life is showing you?
Where are you going to, do you know?

Do you get what you're hoping for . . .
When you look behind you theres no open door.
What are you hoping for, do you know?

Once we were standing still in time Chasing the fantasies that filled our minds.

And you knew how I loved you then, but my spirits were free.

Laughing at the questions that you once asked of me.

Now looking back at all we planned, We let so many dreams just slip through our hands.

Why must we wait so long before we see How sad the answers to those questions can be.

Do you know where you're going to?
Do you like the things that life is showing you?

Where are you going to, do you know?

Freshmen

Your high school years had just begun Your admiration Big Blue had finally won You couldn't wait to start the day Because you weren't going to class instead you would play
The meeting of new friends would really be great
You got up early so you wouldn't be late When you came to school you entered a whole different phase You met Mr. DiChiara and your head went into a daze
You thought you would be the clown of the school
But he showed you who was going to rule You went to class with no more foolish ideas in your "head" Instead you were studying how you could get "ahead"

Sophomore

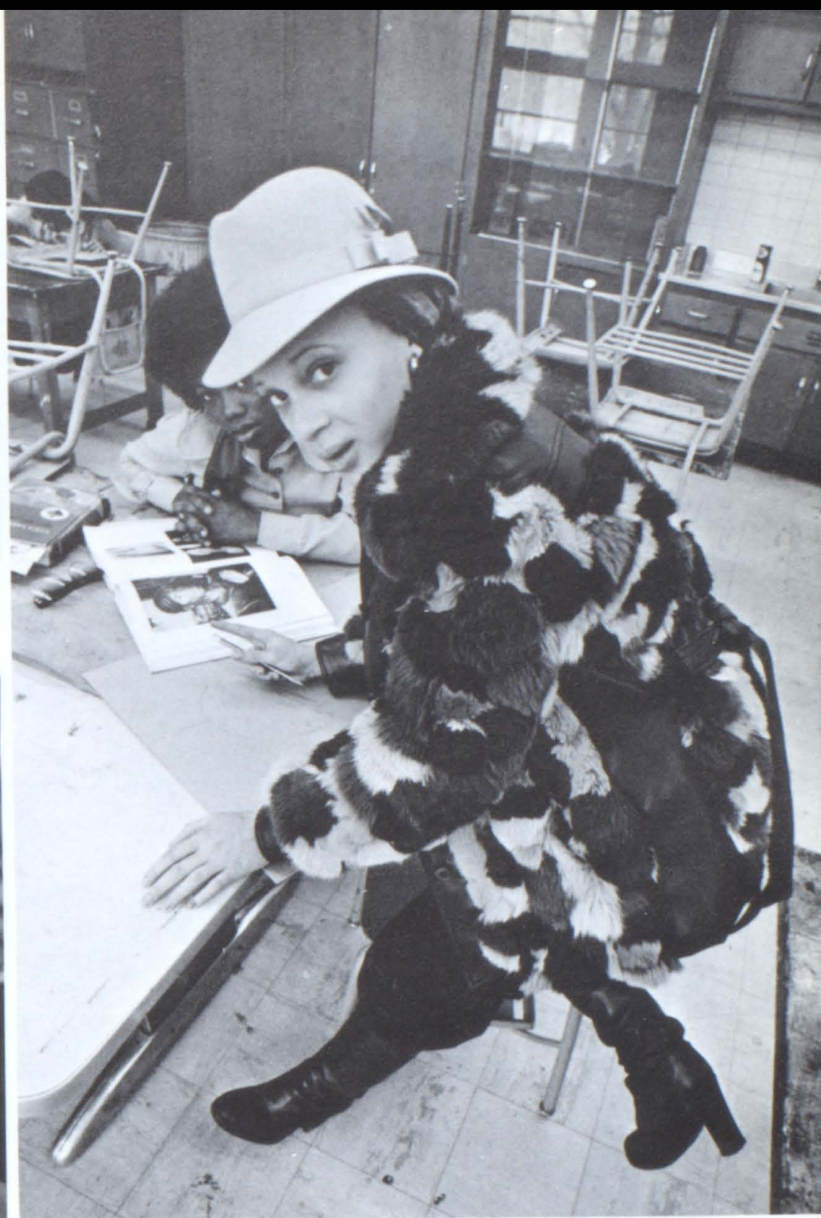

A year had just passed and the people you had gotten to know
But you weren't really popular and this had you feeling low Why couldn't you be like some of your fellow peers
They were too disrespectful and in this you had your fears You sat home wondering why your life was in such a rut
So the next day in school you decided to cut The disrespect that you were trying to avoid, seemed to disappear
School didn't matter you really didn't care Now you were with the "in crowd" and considered to be "cool" But will the "in people" help you when you flunk out of school?

Junior

Just one more year to go and you would be out You were finally beginning to understand what life was all about Those degrading friends that you once had Were a matter of the past, just like a passing fad
They thought you were snotty, but it wasn't a matter of that You just understood where your head was "at"
Your friends felt that you had given them a jilt
So you still went walking around with a feeling of guilt
Why couldn't they understand that education is a must
That you were really a sincere person, not one who was unjust Well, it really didn't matter harder times were yet to come You were faced with the realization that you had to encounter some

Senior

You know about Barringer and all the tricks of the trade
You were enjoying "Seniority" you felt you had it made In a couple of months college life would begin You were a sure bet because you know how to win Wow! It would be great to prove you had style Your four years at the "B" would all be worthwhile
Still You Regret To Leave The Happy Days spent Is this what "growing-up" really meant?

PATTERNS

In our life
we try to equalize

As we weigh our sisters with our brothers

Like we compare one teacher to another

Our sweet natural spirit or the people next door

It started me thinking, if everyone must follow patterns?

Sometimes we spoke all period you strived to help me strive and I started to weigh

The joy of your presence with the agony of your absence

Bernadette Manners

A black and white photograph of a forest. Sunlight streams through the trees, creating a dramatic effect with bright rays and deep shadows. The trees are tall and slender, with their trunks visible in the foreground and background. The foliage is dense, and the overall atmosphere is serene and contemplative.

HIGH SCHOOL

ALMA MATER

Over many a city old, famed in song and story Temple grey and castle hold catch the sunset glory.
So our Alma Mater proud looks o'er vale and meadow High between the sailing cloud and its drifting shadows.
For her colors, first the blue of the April valley's Then December's wintry here when the storm winds rally.
Barringer, the fame we raise, many voices blending; Through the years we pledge the praise loyal to life's ending.

Junius W. Stevens, 1924

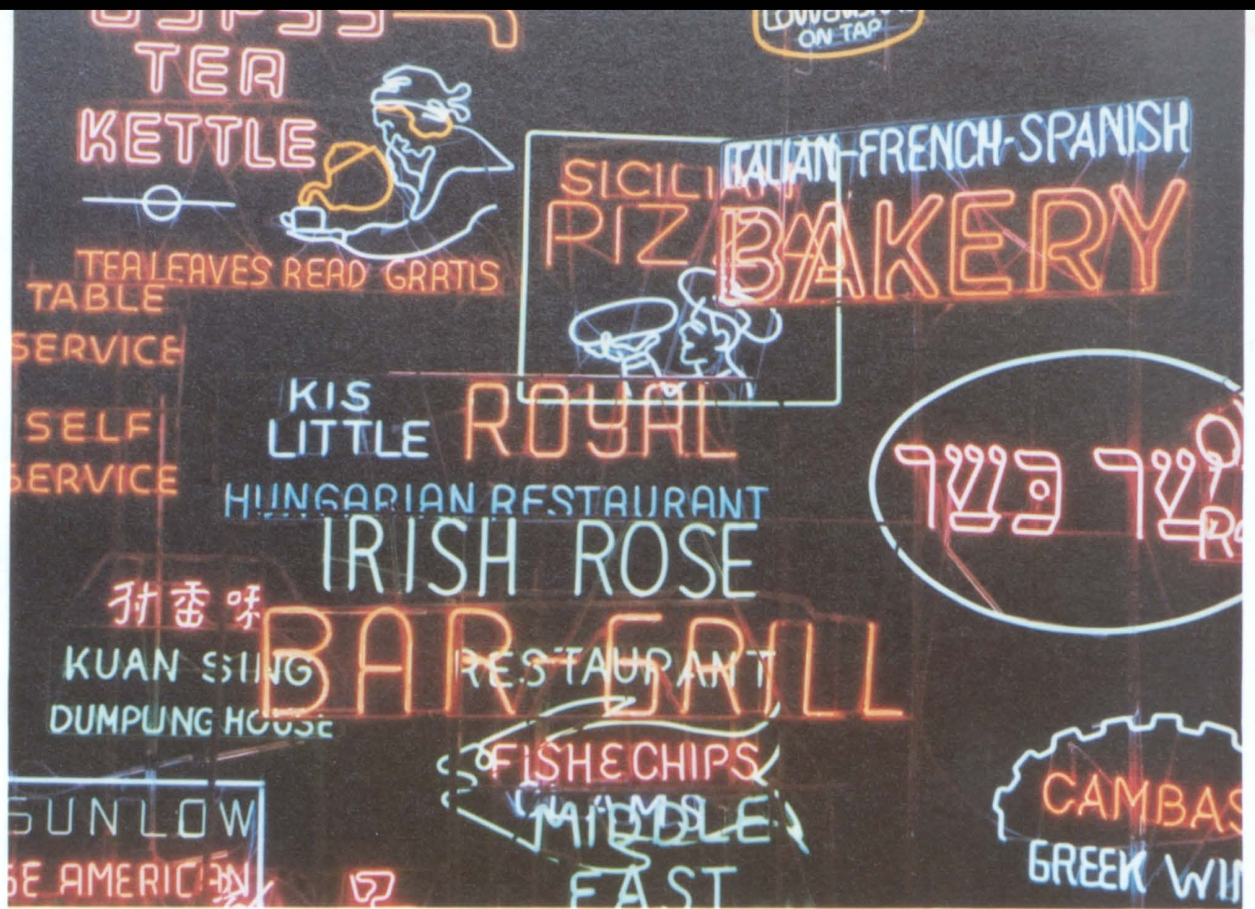

We challenge eternity.

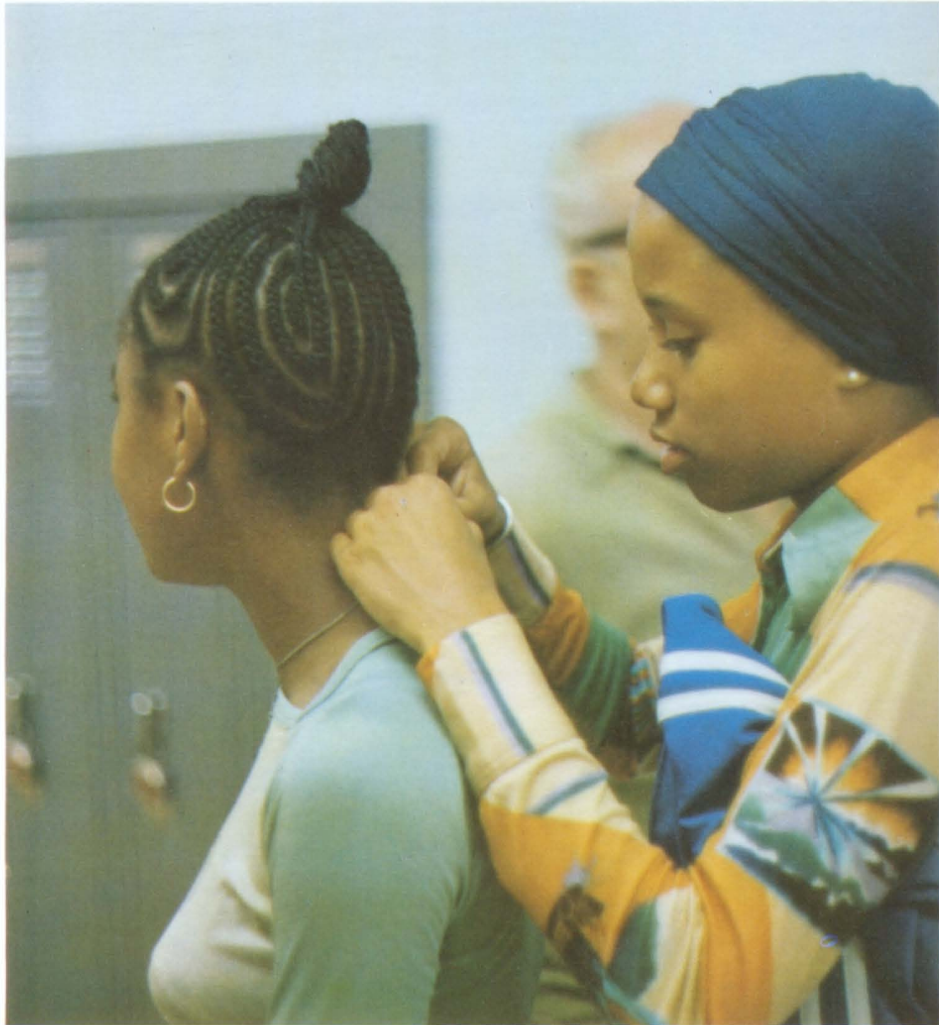

Our past has bridged the future.

We sense another time, and this blends our feelings.

We reflect on the past.

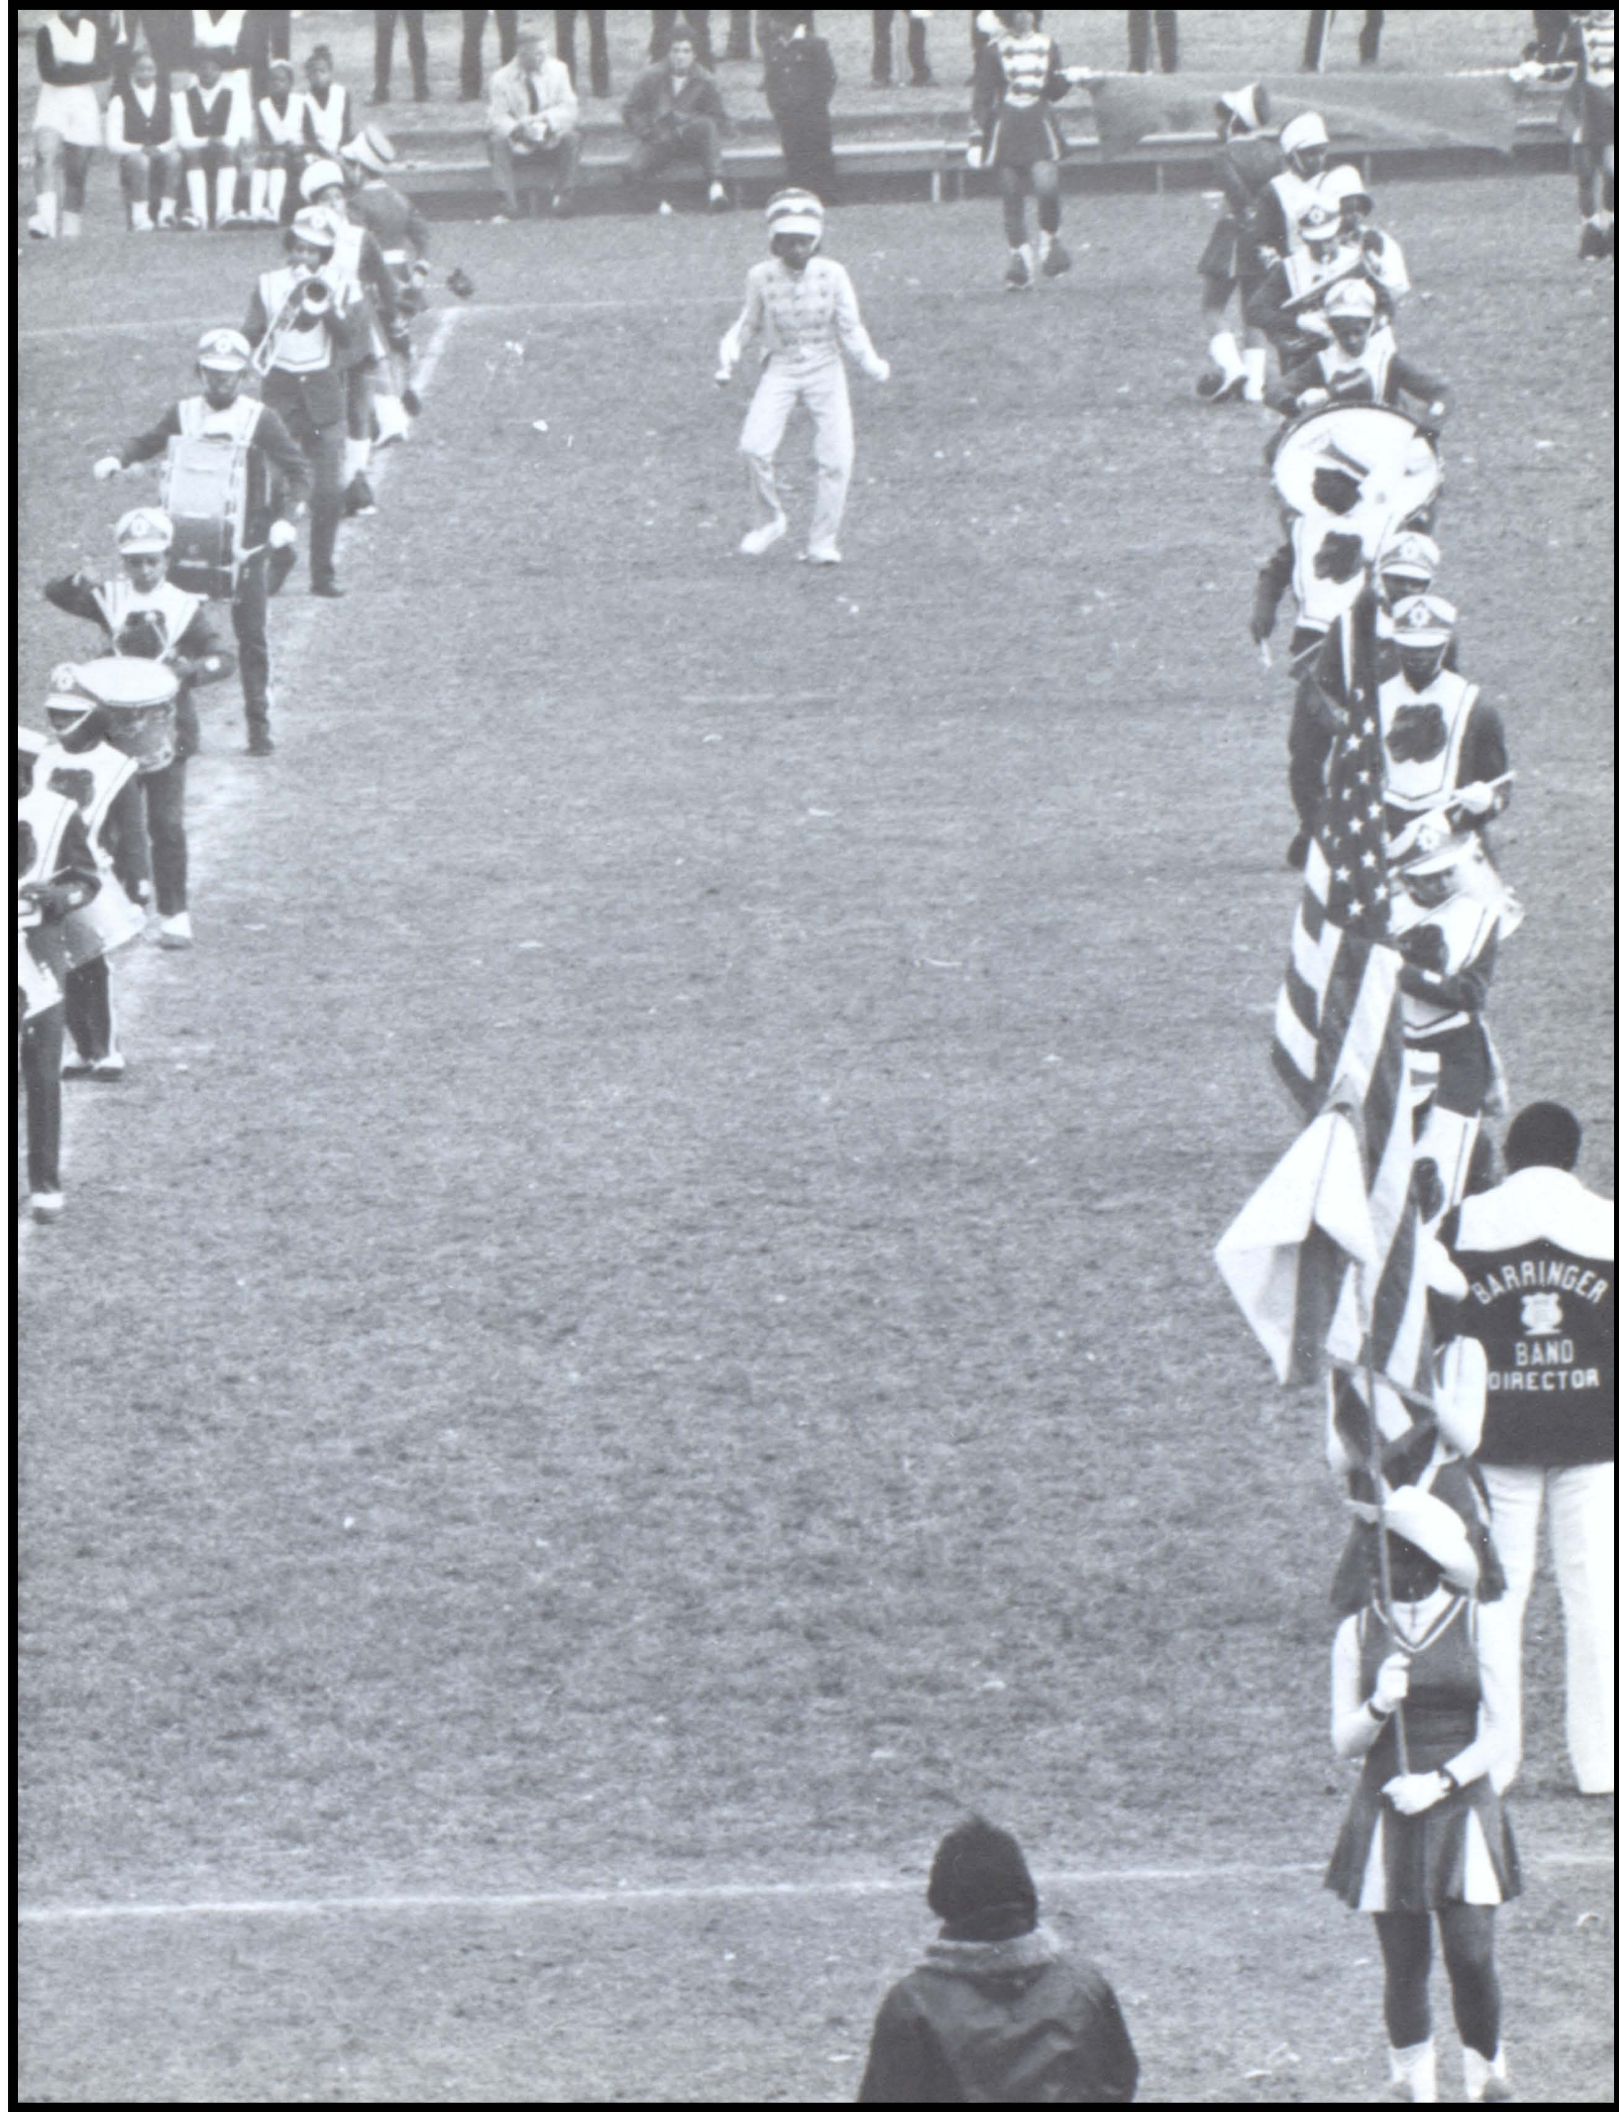

Skeptically we slip into our new world.

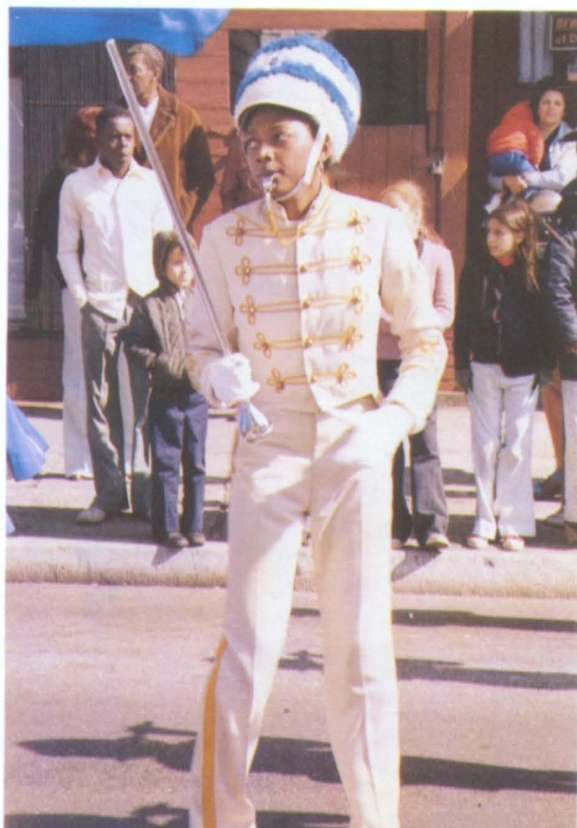

Historically we are a milestone

And it is slowly becoming apparent That we are instilled with a proud feeling For our Alma Mater.

We are touched with the realization,
That we cannot grasp and hold this moment . . .
It is forever lost.

And we have forever departed from our home Away from home.
